

DID YOU KNOW?

Note from Rosalyn Gannon:

In 1960, the NSD girls did not have any uniforms, and the school was not sure about it as we just started the volleyball games.

So, I asked Mrs. Garrison, my home economics teacher if she would help us make the uniforms. I bought a wrap of white fabric, and we included the volleyball girls and made the uniforms (one-piece uniforms) for the first year. We played against several schools, and the girls did well even though we lost all of the games.

During the second year (1962) Supt. George Thompson decided to buy our new uniforms for the girls, which were nice black shorts and white shirts with the emblems of NSD on the top side of the shirts.
